Benefit of Chrome Extension:

The image shows a Chrome browser window with the Loom website open. The address bar shows 'loom.com/my-videos'. The page layout includes a top navigation bar with the Loom logo, search, pricing, and video management options. A left sidebar contains 'My Videos', 'Activity Feed', and 'Folders'. The main content area is titled 'My Videos' and features a 'Folders' section with a folder named 'How To Use Loom'. Below this is an 'All Videos' section which displays a large blue television icon with a red lightning bolt, indicating no videos are present. A message reads 'You don't have any videos' with a help icon and a link to 'See how we use Loom'. On the right side, there are buttons for 'New Video', 'New Folder', and 'New Public Folder'. A circular video preview window in the bottom left corner shows a person's face with standard video controls (close, pause, play) and a green checkmark.

VIDEO IS CREATED AND STORED IN THE LOOM CLOUD STORAGE

The screenshot displays the Loom web interface. At the top left is the Loom logo. The top right contains a search bar, 'My Videos', 'More' with a dropdown arrow, a notification bell with '5', and a user profile picture. The main video player shows a dark grey video frame with the text 'CHAPTER 1 : DIGITAL DOCUMENTATION X STD – SUBJECT CODE 402' and 'CREATING STYLES IN OPEN OFFICE WRITER'. A large play button is centered over the video. Below the video, there are playback controls including a 'Watch At:' section with speed options (1x, 1.2x, 1.5x, 1.7x, 2x) and a '3 min' duration indicator. A taskbar is visible at the bottom of the video frame. To the right of the video player is a sidebar with three sections: 'Send Your Video' with a link and a 'Copy Link' button; 'Privacy' set to 'Public' with a 'Hide' link and 'Invite People' and 'Add Password' buttons; and 'Edit Your Video' with icons for settings, trim, and share. At the bottom of the page, there is a timestamp '8 August, 2020 - Loom Recording' and a row of icons for download, copy, delete, and share.
